

SOAR and Academic Advising

All new students should attend the SOAR orientation program. The final sessions are: transfer students - August 19 and August 20; freshmen students - August 21. During your SOAR experience, you will have the opportunity to accomplish all of the necessary tasks prior to the beginning of classes. Students can register to attend these programs on line at soar.uncc.edu.

All second degree students, and any freshmen or transfer students unable to attend SOAR need to call their major department and make an appointment for academic advisement. All students must receive academic advising before they will be permitted to register for classes. More information about academic advising at UNC Charlotte is available at www.advising.uncc.edu.
